

DISTINGUISHED MOOSE BIOLOGIST

An award was established by the North American Moose Conference and Workshop in 1981 to honor, and bring to public attention, an outstanding contribution by a particular individual, individuals and/or organizations to moose management. Nominations can be made by anyone to the Distinguished Moose Biologist Committee. The Committee decides on the suitability of nominees, and if appropriate, an award is presented at the next Annual North American Moose Conference and Workshop.

In 1986, the Distinguished Moose Biologist Award was presented to (H. R.) Tim Timmermann. His career spans over two decades in Northern Ontario, and his contributions are in the form of publications, activities in the North American Moose Conference and Workshop, co-editor of Alces and provincial moose management.

Holders of the DISTINGUISHED MOOSE BIOLOGIST AWARD are:

1981 Pat Karns, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Grand Rapids, MN.
and
Al Elsey, Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources, Thunder Bay, Ontario.

1982 Tony Bubenik, Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources (retired), Thornhill, Ontario.

1983 Al Franzmann, Alaska Division of Fish and Game, Soldotna, AK.

1984 Ed Telfer, Canadian Wildlife Service, Edmonton, Alberta.

1985 Ralph Ritcey, Fish and Wildlife Branch, Kamloops, B.C.

In 1974, prior to the establishment of the Distinguished Moose Biologist Award, the group recognized the pioneering moose research of the late Laurits (Larry) Krefting, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service) with an individual award.
